Electric the Goldfish
wanted to play basketball.

But, alas, the coach
said he was too small.

He tried soccer but his teammates squealed that poor Electric couldn't cover the field.

Electric joined a choir but couldn't hold the notes when asked to sing higher.

The choir conductor noticed
Electric liked the rain.

‘Try swimming’, he said.
‘You’d be king of the fast lane!’

Sure enough, Electric lit up the pool. And everyone thought that was pretty cool.
